YOUR FUTURE AND ENJOYING THE REST OF YOUR LIFE

The end of Year 11 can be a really exciting time as you start making plans for what you will do with your future. It can also be a bit daunting if you're not sure what you would like to do next, so don't panic and take some time to have a think and look at your options.

In England, you can leave school on the last Friday in June if you'll be 16 by the end of the summer holidays. You must then do one of the following until you're 18:

- stay in full-time education, for example at a college
- start an apprenticeship or traineeship
- spend 20 hours or more a week working or volunteering, while in part-time education or training

Dealing with disappointing results

If you don't get the grades you want, it can feel devastating especially after these difficult few years. But it really isn't the end of the world and it happens to lots of people, for all sorts of reasons. If you believe an error has been made, you do have a right to appeal and should contact your school.

Have a look at these websites for advice:

MENTAL HEALTH AND EMOTIONAL WELLBEING

Life at the moment

The last few years have been very strange and difficult for many people. Tragic and worrying things going on in the world can also be very upsetting.

It is ok, and normal, to be anxious and have a bad day.

If you are feeling constant anxiety, it can be a sign that something in your life isn't right and you may need some help figuring out what that is.

Here are some ideas and websites that may help.

5 steps to mental wellbeing

Evidence suggests there are 5 steps you can take to improve your mental health and wellbeing. Trying these things could help you feel more positive and able to get the most out of life.

- 1 Connect with other people
- 2 Be physically active
- 3 Learn new skills
- 4 Give to others
- 5 Pay attention to the present moment (mindfulness)

Getting a good night's sleep

There are many simple things you can do to help you sleep here are 'Rise Aboves' 5 tips for a better night's sleep:

- 1 Setting a regular bedtime and wake time, this can really help remind your body clock it's time to sleep
- 2 Try not to nap in the daytime.
- 3 If you do charge your phone in your bedroom, try to charge out of reach so you can resist the temptation to check it!
- 4 What we do in the daytime is really important for sleep, regular exercise helps, either in the morning or 4 hours before bedtime is best.
- 5 Try a night time routine, hot bath, create a dark, cool, tidy, soothing bedtime space and relaxing music before bedtime can help to wind down from the day or even ear plugs can help you get off to sleep to block out any noise.

RELATIONSHIPS

Relationships are confusing, yes, but should also be fun! Just take your time, make sure it feels right and talk to someone if you're unsure.

We all hope to have healthy, loving relationships but sometimes relationships change and some behaviour becomes more unhealthy and can result in an abusive and controlling relationship.

Love shouldn't feel bad and everyone has the right to feel safe and happy.

ADDICTIONS AND RISKY BEHAVIOUR

Smokefree National Helpline

Not starting smoking in the first place and stopping smoking are the best things you can do for your health. You don't have to quit smoking alone. It's much easier to do it with the right information, advice and support.

Call the free Smokefree National Helpline to speak to a trained, expert adviser.

Tel: 0300 123 1044

All lines are open Monday to Friday 9am to 8pm and Saturday and Sunday 11am to 4pm.

Vaping (E-cigarettes) aren't a safe alternative to smoking.

They're just another way of putting nicotine into your body. Nicotine can harm the developing adolescent brain and the brain keeps developing until about age 25. Using nicotine in adolescence can harm the parts of the brain that control attention, learning, mood, and impulse control.

The advice is that people who smoke are better to switch completely to vaping but if you have never been a smoker, don't start to vape.

KNOW YOUR UNITS

Find out what's in your drinks! Get the facts and advice on alcohol units and measures.

14 UNITS

There is no completely safe level of drinking, but sticking within the guidelines lowers your risk of harming your health. Men and women are advised not to regularly drink more than 14 units a week.

3 DAYS

Spread your drinking over 3 days or more if you drink as much as 14 units a week.

GLASS OF RED, WHITE OR ROSE WINE (ABV 13%)

 Small 125ml	 Standard 175ml	 Large 250ml
1.6 UNITS	2.3 UNITS	3.3 UNITS

BEER, LAGER AND CIDER

REGULAR (ABV 4%)	STRONG (ABV 5.2%)	EXTRA STRONG (ABV 8%)

10 UNITS PER BOTTLE

UNDERSTANDING ABV

Alcohol by volume (ABV) is a percentage measure of the amount of alcohol in your drink. You can find the ABV on the labels of cans and bottles, sometimes it will be written as 'vol' or 'alcohol volume'. The higher the %, the stronger the drink is.

OTHER DRINKS

35ML SINGLE SPIRIT AND MIXER (ABV 40%)

1 UNIT

275ML BOTTLE OF PRE-MIXED DRINK (ABV 5.5%)

1.5 UNITS

TRY LOWER STRENGTH DRINKS

Cut down the alcohol by swapping strong beers or wines for ones with a lower strength (ABV in %). You'll find this information on the bottle.

MEDICAL WARNING

Get medical advice before you stop drinking if you have physical withdrawal symptoms (like shaking, sweating or feeling anxious until you have your first drink of the day). It can be dangerous to stop drinking too quickly without proper support.

Alcohol

Drinking alcohol is so common in our society that it can feel like it's totally normal and not a big deal. But it's a lot more complicated than that. Alcohol has some negative effects, especially if you're drinking a lot or if you start drinking when you're under 18.

HEALTHY LIFESTYLES AND STAYING HEALTHY

We know that there are lots of ways we can look after ourselves and protect our health. You probably know most of this already but here is a quick reminder!

Healthy Eating

Healthy eating isn't about being super strict with food, it doesn't have to be complicated or mean you have to give up any favourite foods. Just make sure you have a good balance of all the food groups over a day, or over a few days, and are not having too many foods high in sugar, fat or salt.

Physical Activity (Exercise)

Ideally, up to the age of 18, all young people should be aiming for at least an hour of activity a day.

It is important to include activities that strengthen muscle and bone on at least 3 days a week.

Try to spend as little time as possible sitting for long periods of time and just 'move more'!

As well as being good for your physical health and keeping a healthy weight, exercise is great for your mental wellbeing and a good way to meet people too.

Sometimes it's just about finding the right thing that you enjoy and want to keep doing so see what is available near you and maybe try something new!

COVID-19

Testing

Testing guidance in England has changed. Most people without COVID-19 symptoms do not need to get lateral flow tests. Free tests for COVID-19 from the NHS will end for most people in England on 31st March 2022. If you have symptoms of COVID-19, you should stay at home and avoid contact with other people.
